To the Finest that Grows”*

FEB 10 1925

U.S. 1

(White's L 8) "GOLDEN EMBLEM" The finest, newest yellow.

After giving through trial we are convinced that this wonder of wonders is one of, if not the finest, largest, purest, deep rich yellow dahlias in existence today. A clear, golden yellow, without shading or any traces of any other color whatsoever. The huge flowers, 9 to 10 in. across, are of the most artistic and refined form imaginable with their high centers and long, wavy, recurving petals. Blooms are erect on long, wiry stems, far above foliage. Of fine substance, keep extra well when cut. Early, constant bloomer. Stock Limited. Tubers, $10.00 NET.

ELIZABETH WHITE

'ELIZABETH WHITE'

(No. Sal. 6) Giant Decorative

For several years we have wanted to name a dahlia in memory of our mother. Naturally, it had to be something appropriate and of the highest possible merit and that would soon become a universal favorite, and remain such. In this new wonder creation we have found our ideal. The giant flowers, 8 and 9 in. in diameter, are of very perfect and refined form. The long, individual stems are all that one could ask for, and no extra large dahlia will bloom better. The color is simply beautiful and pleases everyone. Best described as a rich combination of coral pink and salmon, intensified by a bright amber-like glow at the base of petals and throughout the entire flower. An ideal grower of medium height. Each, $7.50

'INDEPENDENCE'

(WHITE'S No. I. W. 7)

A 1925 Giant Decorative

If you want long, cane-like stems, you want 'Independence'. The picture to the right can give you very little idea of the massive stateliness of this mammoth new dahlia. Blooms are 8 to 9 inches across and 6 to 7 inches in depth. Imagine these heavy blossoms standing most rigidly erect on the finest of stems, looking you right in the eye. Plants are of sturdy growth and medium height with large, thick leathery foliage. The color is an attractive deep mauve pink or lilac. Withstands more abuse from rain and storms than most any other large dahlia we have ever grown. Only a limited number of tubers to offer for this season. Each, $7.50

INDEPENDENCE

To Our Many Customers and Floral Friends:

ALTHO this is our thirteenth year, and 13 is the proverbially unlucky number, we believe 1925 to be a year of promise. We have tried to start it right by giving you a larger and better catalog, and by preparing to give you still better service.

In re-writing and revising this year's catalog, we have endeavored to give descriptions that are short, concise and unexaggerated. In describing the great variety of rare and unusual colorings found in many of the newer dahlias, gladioli, etc., we have tried to use plain comprehensive color names, avoiding such terms as eosine and laelia pink, liseran purple, barium and baryta yellow, or grenadine, bordeaux or rose doree, which can mean but little to the average flower grower.

We are proud to call your special attention to our new dahlia originations offered on page 5, and particularly to our glorious Golden Emblem, which we feel sure will delight and thrill you as it has us.

Our stock of Dahlias and Gladioli for this Spring is exceptionally fine and healthy, and we will get great pleasure in filling your orders with such stock.

We wish it were possible to meet and know each one of our customers and friends. This is impossible but we are personally interested in you and wish you every success possible.

Mixed Dahlia Tubers

We never have, and hope we never will find it necessary to catalog or sell cheap, unnamed or mixed dahlia tubers. To us, this seems to cheapen them unjustly, and we love the 'king of autumn flowers' too much for that.

Did We Send You 2 Copies?

If you receive more than one copy of our catalog, we will consider it a great favor if you will give the 'extra one' to a flower lover.

Directions How to Reach Our Gardens

TAKE KENTON CAR ON BROADWAY. GET OFF AT DEKUM AVE. AND YOU ARE RIGHT THERE. YOU CAN'T MISS IT.

Don't overlook the Flower Seeds

we are offering on page 28. It is not a long list but all are of very superior quality.

How To Grow Dahlias Successfully

The Dahlia of to-day is one of the easiest of all flowers to grow and will produce more flowers, size considered, than any other plant grown, if these simple cultural directions are followed closely. Prepare the soil thoroughly by spading the ground 12 to 18 inches deep in the Fall, if possible, and again in the Spring, pulverizing it as much as you can. If soil is quite sandy, some well rotted manure thoroly mixed in, will be of great help to hold the moisture.

Very heavy or clay soil is greatly benifited by adding some coarse sand or coal ashes. One of the best times to cultivate Dahlias, etc., is before you plant. Work your soil thoroly. If your soil will grow good potatoes, you can easily grow Dahlias and Gladioli successfully. On very poor soil work in a little well-rotted manure or bone meal, but don't overdo it. Don't plant Dahlias or Gladioli too near the roots of rank growing trees or shrubs.

When possible, give your dahlias a bed 6 feet wide, planting two rows down the middle. Select an open, sunny situation, although they do quite well in partial shade if given a little more space or keep well thinned out. Getting full benefit of all the morning sun only is ideal. Don't plant Dahlia roots too close. They should have at least three feet of space.

Don't plant too early. Dahlias dislike to bloom during the hot, dry, summer weather. They are really an Autumn flower and should not bloom till the summer is about over. From early May to first of June is the planting time we recommend for Portland and similar climates. This will give you flowers from the middle of August to heavy frost. However, those living near the ocean, or those having success with them flowering in the summer, plant in early April.

Never stand the tuber on end when planting. Lay flat in the hole 6 to 8 inches deep. The size of any tuber makes no difference as long as it has one good strong eye or sprout. Put sand under your bulb, 2 or 3 in. of soil over it, and the other 3 or 4 in. after it is up.

Allow only one sprout to grow from each tuber. You will get more and larger blooms. When plants have made their second or third set of leaves, pinch out the top—sure, we do. This causes the plant to grow a stout branch at the base of each of the four or six leaves left. If buds form on plants too young, pick them off—let the plants grow first and then bloom. Best fertilizer for young, growing Dahlia plants is the hoe and elbow grease every few days.

You can easily overwater, when plants are young, but you can not over cultivate them. It is much better not to water, than to allow a crust to form, after watering—cultivate lightly. Daily surface sprinklings do more harm than good—soak the beds thoroughly when needed. It is far better to give a dahlia seven buckets of water in one day, than 1 a day for 7 days. Dahlias like plenty of water when in bloom but can't stand wet feet. How is your drainage? To have the greatest success is to keep them growing, but as strong and sturdy as possible. You will get few, if any, blooms (and inferior) from growth that is hardened or stunted.

When buds appear, stop all deep cultivation and give the beds a mulch of manure, leaves, grass clippings, etc. If sufficient mulching is not available, make a shallow basin around each plant, and fill well with mulching. Every week or ten days, scatter more manure or other fertilizer over the beds. Feeding in liquid form is best but don't give too much at one time.

If you want larger Dahlias and of greater substance with longer, stronger stems—disbud. When the size of peas, pinch off all buds in a cluster except the largest, unless it is deformed.

To help prevent disease, give your Dahlias a shower bath daily, during dry, hot weather. Never leave Dahlias in the ground over winter. Store in a frost proof place, like potatoes.

Plant Dahlia Plants -- One-third cheaper than tubers.

We are prepared to furnish most of the new and scarce varieties listed, as well as some not listed in this catalog, in the form of Growing Plants, from 3 inch pots. Ready for planting about May 10th to June 10th. For full information, send for our Special Plant List.

Dahlia plants will give equal or better results than tubers, if given a little more care in their early growth. In our own Show Garden we have always used them whenever obtainable. This season we are much better prepared to grow them, and intend using them almost exclusively for our display plants. However, we do not recommend "plants" to the new beginner but will venture to say that they are preferred by practically all experienced growers and especially when prize-winning blooms are desired for the Fall Dahlia Shows. You will never know all about Dahlias before giving plants a fair trial.

Our experience and method of packing plants for shipment by parcel post, enables us to guarentee that they will arrive at their destination in perfect condition. They can be sent with safty for a distance requiring from three to four days in transit.

NOW BEING OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC FOR THE FIRST TIME

BRONZE GIANT—(No. W. B. 5)—Decorative—Generally we prefer names that give some idea of the color, etc. of a flower. In this, the name is about all that is necessary. Rich brownish bronze, almost globular in form on stout stems. Dwarf. Each, $3.50

GLENDENNING—(No. I. W. 6)—Decorative—Larger, but similar in form to our "Jack London", which has become such a great favorite. An elegant glowing crimson, intensified by a darker center. Ideal upright grower with the huge flowers held erect on extra long, strong stems well above the foliage. Something more than just another red dahlia. A good stock allows this very reasonable price. Each, $3.50

LADY VALDINE—(No. W. B. 17)—Decorative—An unusual and exceptional dahlia that produces an abundance of flowers from early till late. The immense, bold blooms show to best of advantage on extra fine, long stems. It has a distinctive new color tone, best described as a deep bluish lavender, having a decided bluish cast at twilight. The 'favorite dahlia' with many visitors. Strong grower. Each, $4.00

MOONLIGHT GLOW—(No. H. 10)—Full-petaled Peony type—One of the largest of all, with broad petals and tiny florets clustered around the center. Color is a creamy salmon-pink, flushed with delicate pastel rose on outer petals and shading to a creamy glow at the heart; the whole flower overlaid with an ashes of roses sheen. A strong, robust grower and splendid stems. You'll like this one. Each, $5.

ORANGE BRILLIANT—(No. Ta. 5)—Peony-Decorative—A glistening semi-ball in a distinct shade of pure orange, standing at graceful attention on fine stems. We introduce it, not for its size, but feel it will appeal strongly to those who wish something very bright and cheerful, easily grown and useful for bouquets as well as ornamental in the garden. In these respects it's second to none. Dwarf. Each, $2.50

OREGON RUSSET—(No. G. W. 10)—Peony-flowered type—A revelation to all who saw it blooming in our gardens, and one of the centers of attraction in our exhibit at the Oregon State Fair and elsewhere. Of huge size and beautiful, informal shape with curling petaloids around center. Early and profuse bloomer with splendid stems, lasting exceptionally well as a cut flower. A distinct and very attractive color hard to describe. The center of flower is a rich golden ochre, quickly blending to bronzy salmon and heavily shaded sunset red on outer half of petals. Medium height. A wonderful 'wonder' that we can be justly proud of. Each, $5.00

SUN-KISSED—(No. G. W. 20)—Decorative—Soft golden yellow touched with a coppery tint on outer petals. Good yellow dahlias are not plentiful, and for size, freedom and continuity of bloom, few dahlias can equal this one. A wonderfully showy garden plant looking as if it were a huge bouquet. A rapid, healthy grower of medium height with the monster flowers and stems held very erect. Each, $4.00

BLUSHING MONARCH—(No. Sal. 10)—Decorative—Cactus—Huge, massive flowers; perfect form and great depth with extra heavy, long stems. Glistening pearly white, lightly flushed pale rose. Of very rank, branching growth, needing a little thinning after mid-season. An unusual creation that has been greatly admired at our gardens. Good multiplier. Hence, a large stock allows this reasonable price. Each, $3.50

SPECIAL OEFER—One tuber each of Glendenning, Lady Valdine & Moonlight Glow for only $7.50

AUTUMN MARVEL

"Pacific Sunset"

(Giant Peony-flowered type)

We do not hesitate in claiming this to be one of the very finest, as well as one of the largest dahlias in the world today. Probably no other variety in our Gardens attracted more attention than did this new creation. In size, it's immense, often over 10 in. across, and looks every bit as large as it measures, as each petal is over $2\frac{1}{4}$ in. in width almost its entire length. The color is a soft and very pleasing shade of salmon buff, suffused with apricot on the outer half of the petals. An ideal autumn shade and a free bloomer. The stems are extra long and strong and habit of growth is hard to improve upon. In addition to all this we can truthfully say that this is more FRAGRANT than any of the other so-called, sweet scented dahlias we have ever heard of, having an odor similar to the Trillium. Our stock of this wonderful new creation is again very limited. 1 Tuber only to a customer. Each, \$5.00 Strong plants (ready May 15th.) Each, \$3.50

Don't overlook Our Special Offers of Dahlias for $1.00, on page 11.

TESTIMONIALS?

Yes, we have them—our files are full of them, but we have never had much space or desire to have them in full dress, parading thru our catalogs.

COLLARETTE DAHLIAS

These are the freest bloomers, having long stems and make fine, lasting cut-flowers. Flowers are single, with a second row of short petals, or collar, usually of a contrasting color. The individual blooms are almost perfection in form and a dozen or more make a most artistic and showy bouquet.

TYPES OF COLLARETTE DAHLIAS

AMI NONIN—Large flower of a pleasing old rose, shaded carmine; collar is white suffused rose; long, stiff stems, M. .25

BARBARA—A bright crimson, faintly tipped gold. Flat form; full collar of rich yellow, reticulated scarlet. Dwarf, free flowering habit. New English creation of merit, D. .50

CIRCIE—White, heavily suffused cerise with white collar; perfectly shaped flower. Very free flowering, erect habit and wiry stems. One of the most attractive, M. .50

Cocarde Espagnole—Both petals and collar are a combination of red and gold. Flowers are very large and of distinct form, T. .25

CORMORANT—Rich glowing crimson, with a collar of primrose, streaked with carmine. Large and showy; one of the best, M. .50

CRESETT—Deep wine red, edged scarlet; a creamy white collar, edged crimson, M. .25

DOON—Intense orange red, edged gold with a bright yellow collar. One of the best in habit of growth and stems, M. .25

GEANT DE LYON—Immense flower of rich velvety maroon, with a white collar. It is a free and constant bloomer, with fine stems. Irresistable to almost everyone, D. .50

GIPSY—Bright ruby crimson edged with rich maroon. Collar is a pure white. Large perfectly formed flower, borne erect on stiff stems. One of the very finest of the new English introductions, M. .50

Katchen Von Schwarzatal—Carmine rose, edged and tipped white; collar is white; 5 to 6 inches across. Second to none, D. .50

LINNET—Bright rosy crimson; pure white collar. Very neat and showy flower, N. .50

GLADIOLI

THE CUT FLOWER
PRE-EMINENT

The most beautiful and attractive of all summer flowering bulbs are the newer Gladioli. Such a rapid improvement has been made during the past few years in the size, color and beauty of these flowers, that the result is wonderful. If cut when the first buds open and allowed to develop indoors, every bud will open and the size and color will be more perfect than if left in the sun. The spikes will continue to open additional buds for a week or two weeks, according to the variety and conditions.

CULTURE— You can plant a Gladiolus bulb in most any kind of soil and it will bloom, but attention to a few simple details will produce superior results. Sound healthy bulbs and a sunny situation is the most important. Successive plantings in the same place should be avoided when possible. Plant 3 to 5 inches apart and to a depth of 4 to 6 inches, depending on size of bulb and character of soil. May be planted as early as the end of March or as late as the middle of June. By planting at intervals during this time you will have flowers all season. Cultivate often until flower spikes appear, then if possible, cover the ground with a mulch and water thoroughly when in bloom. Dig in November (or sooner if foliage begins to ripen) on a sunny day if possible, so as to allow them to dry off well before storing in a cool, dry, frost-proof place. Cut off the tops close up to the bulb, as soon as dug.

Dahlia and Gladioli Fertilizer

We have always received many inquiries as to what we use for fertilizing dahlias and gladioli. In response, we are prepared this season to supply our customers with an ideal organic fertilizer for all flowering plants and especially dahlias. Use about a pound to four plants; mix thoroly with the soil in the hill before planting. 2 lbs. 15c; 4 lbs. 25c postpaid in the 1st and 2nd zones only.

Cut Flowers in Season

Dahlias, Gladioli, Zinnias, Etc.

Come out to our Gardens, where they are growing, and get them fresher, cheaper and better. Long stemmed Dahlia blooms in any or all colors and types, after middle of August at 35c to 75c per dozen. Gladioli and Zinnias a month earlier. Also Asters, Marigolds etc.

We will also be able to offer Greenhouse grown flowers such as, Carnations, Sweet Peas, Gladioli, Snapdragons and Etc., in the most popular colors, during the Spring, late Fall and Winter months. All can be sent by parcel post or express safely in Northwest.

Keeping Dahlia Blooms When Cut

Cut the flowers as late as possible in the evening or very early in the morning, while the dew is still on them. Cut with long stems and dip the ends of the stems (2 to 3 inches) in almost boiling water for 20 seconds to one minute, depending on length and texture of the stem. Then immediately submerge them two-thirds of their length in cold water and put them in a cool place, away from all draft for a couple of hours, or till wanted for your vases. The more of the stem you can have in the water in your vases, the longer the blooms will keep fresh. When cutting dahlia blooms try and select those that are in their prime, as those not fully developed will wilt easily.

We find the use of Asperin tablets in the water is more harmful to flowers than to human beings.

DAHLIA KNIVES—Just the thing for dividing up your Dahlia clumps. Large varnished handles, easy to grip, with stationary blades. The same as we use. 45c postpaid.

and the Auto Tourists' Park.*

We wish to extend to all a hearty invitation to visit our Dahlia and Floral Gardens. Over 700 named varieties of Dahlias, including the best European and American Novelties, as well as many new Creations of our own origin not yet offered to the public, will be growing under most up-to-date methods, and will be at their best after the middle of August, and until a heavy frost.

All flower lovers and especially Dahlia enthusiasts should try and see the Dahlias during September or early October, as we honestly believe it will be time well spent.

Are Your Dahlias Named Correctly?

You may be in doubt about some or have others of which names have been lost. Send us sample blooms and we will gladly give you the names if we can. All we ask is that you send us 4 cents in stamps enclosed in package.

Directions for packing and mailing: Line a stout cardboard box with wax paper first and then with slightly moistened newspaper. Select enough flowers and foliage (no moss) to fill the box, so flowers cannot shake around in it, as this will often bruise them beyond recognition; firm packing does not. Sprinkle just a little water on them before or after packing and wrap the box well, making as air tight as possible. Mail so as to reach Portland before Saturday and then we will be sure to receive them before Sunday. Number the flowers to correspond with those on your plants.

PORTION OF OUR DAHLIA GARDENS IN OCTOBER Visitors Always Welcome

(White's G. W. 2) “ ? ? ? ” A 1926 Winning Wonder.

A magnificent giant peony-flowered dahlia that we had hoped to place on the market this Spring, but being a shy root producer our stock will not be sufficient till next year. It is one of those beautiful autumn shades in color, of wonderful form, ideal upright growth, and exceptional stems that, by disbudding, can be cut three feet long. A lasting cut flower. Over 9 in.
